Extra Cash War Bond Drive Purchases Begin

With purchases already being made daily, the Navy Independence Day Extra Cash War Bond Drive will begin officially next Friday, and the campaign organization was announced today.

In a memorandum to all Hands, Capt. C. Gulbranson, USN, Base CO, emphasized the importance of saving money for the future, and pointed out, as he has done on many prior occasions, that war bonds "are the best investment in the world today."

The Navy Extra cash drive is being conducted in conjunction with the Mighty Seventh War Loan, currently under way.

All war bonds purchased during the Navy drive will bear a special souvenir validating stamp, and only those war bonds purchased for cash through the Navy will bear this stamp, Lt. John S. Carter, War Bond Officer, said.

Advance purchases, for investment purposes, already made include $5000 by Chief Edgar D. Dehart, of NDRU, and Ashland, Ky.; $4000 by Comdr. S. A. Isquith, $2000 by Comdr. C. V. Hatchette, Senior Medical Officer, and $1000 by Harold L. Hornreich, RM3c, Faber Cove.

Unit chairmen will hold a meeting Monday to complete drive arrangements, and insure that each man on the Base has an opportunity to make all voluntary cash purchases he wishes.

CotcLant Inspects Honor Guard at Headquarters

Fort Pierce Sub-Base Established in Pacific

From Col. Glen B. Wood, Army Liaison Officer Alumnus of the USNATB, now Staff, AdComPhibsPac, comes the suggestion that an appropriate shingle outside those Pacific headquarters could be inscribed "Fort Pierce Sub-Base."

In a letter to Comdr. W. S. Heald, Base Training Officer, Col. Wood says "I believe I would be safe in saying that I have met from one to a half dozen officers from Fort Pierce each day. It is hard to realize at times that I am many miles away from Fort Pierce."

Col. Wood had newly seen Capt. J. C. Hammock, former Training Officer, and Comdr. George C. Griffin, ex-BB CO, when writing the letter, in which he sent best regards to friends here.

✦ USNATB ✦ CHOIR SINGERS NEEDED

More singers are needed for the Sunday 0930 Protestant Choir at the Base Chapel. Rehearsals are held Fridays at 1800 in the Faber Cove Chaplain's Office.

Robert Lee Morris To Rank Of Captain

Promotion of Robert Lee Morris, USN, Administrative Officer of the Janet Board, to rank of Captain, was announced Tuesday after Capt. C. Gulbranson, USN, Senior Member of the Janet Board, extended congratulations and affixed the eagles of the new rank at Base headquarters.

Capt. Morris only recently received recognition at a Base ceremony, with receipt of commendation from Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz for action in the Marianas and Bonin island campaigns.

A 1928 graduate of the U. S. Naval Academy, from Pasadena, Cal.; Capt. Morris has had World War II duty as Executive Officer of the USS Bagley at Pearl Harbor, nine months as Assistant Marine Superintendent at Panama Canal, five months at the Army and Navy Staff College in Washington, and Commanding Officer of the USS Bradford from its commissioning. He reported for duty here on 14 April.

Capt. and Mrs. Morris and their sons, Robert Lee, Jr., 13, and Richard, 10 reside at 113 S. 21st St.

Five Silver Stars, Bronze Stars to 58 at Ceremony

Recognition to USNATB alumni who have performed with heroism and bravery in successful Pacific operations against the Japanese, and have now returned to the Base for further assignment, will come at ceremonies to be held on the parade ground west of Gulbranson Hall at 1000 Saturday.

Capt. C. Gulbranson, USN, Base Commanding Officer, will present citations and awards to 63 members of demolition teams, and four additional awards, for a total of 67 in all.

Of the 63 to go to demolitionaires, five silver stars will be awarded to NCDU officers, and bronze star to 58 heroic men.

Commendations, with bars, will also go to Lt. W. F. Flynn, NCDU Officer-in-Charge, whose record for training demolition men here has been outstanding, and to Lt. Joseph R. Hanson, Attack Boat OinC, for bravery in action prior to duty here.

WHY PEOPLE BUY BONDS

You hear different arguments why people should buy war bonds.

Some are moved, consciously or unconsciously, by selfish interest. War bonds are a good investment. They are a safe investment. They return nearly three per cent interest, and constitute therefore the safest and best savings nest-egg anyone can build up.

With some a mere mention of the word "duty" is sufficient. General Robert E. Lee noted that duty was the sublimest word in the English language. Such a man is driven by a sense of duty, without regard to personal or selfish interest. Show him where duty lies, and that is all that's necessary.

Others are actuated by a sense of loyalty, and perhaps this is the most numerous class. Loyalty to the nation, loyalty to loved ones in the service, loyalty to ideals.

By whatever motive moved, Americans always have come through handsomely in supporting the war by purchase of bonds. It hasn't been necessary to use strong-armed tactics; that nearly always backfires. The part played by sheer hallyhoo—the tactics of the sideshow and the circus—is questionable.

But mostly the success of the war bond drives is a tribute to the good sense, the loyalty and the sense of duty of the great masses of the American people. Because of that loyalty and good sense, the success of the Mighty Seventh drive, at the USNATB and with all Naval personnel, is assured. The Navy is not expected to fight the war and finance it, too, but earns its Well Done with bond purchases just the same.

Navy Vesper Service Given Sunday Night

Another of a series of Navy vesper services was held at the Presbyterian Church on Sunday night, followed by a social hour. Chaplains K. D. Perkins, E. C. Helmich and A. J. Schutz took part in the service, with special organ selections by W. A. Setterstrom, S1c, S. M. Robertson Sp (W) 2c and Zane Carey S1c of the LST 980.

"BLOOD and GUTS"

"There is a little Church out there where I was baptized and confirmed. God has been good to me and I'd like to go there to give thanks to Him." These are the words General George S. Patton, Jr., spoke to reporters after his

8. He was looking forward to a ten-day leave and a chance to visit his parish Church in Los Angeles.

After reading those words of a fighting General — who is known as "Blood and Guts" — it is rather amusing to listen to the barrack's moron who laughs and scoffs at the idea of God, of religion, or at a shipmate who has guts to say some prayers each day. It usually happens that those who ridicule religion are the very ones who lack blood and guts when the real showdown comes.

There are a good many brave men who'll never get a decoration for their special kind of bravery. There's the fellow who's brave enough and has guts to say "No," when he knows that "No" is the only answer to give:

. . . to the shipmate whose only idea of fun is going out and getting "boiled" when he asks him to go along and develop his dark brown taste, his tomorrow's headache, his sickening hangover.

. . . to the slick gambler who has been collecting the money of less practiced associates when he proposes a game that he cannot afford to join.

. . . to the indecent girl who throws herself at him and and who would make him unworthy of the girl he hopes someday to make his wife and the mother of his children.

There's the fellow who has "blood and guts" to do what he knows he ought to do and what would make his mother and his future wife mighty happy:

. . . to say his prayers without shame and without ostentation even though the barracks bully laughs.

. . . to act in time of war as a Christian gentleman is expected to act in times of peace. War, he knows, does not repeal the Ten Commandments.

There's the fellow who has the courage to admit he is sure of a lot of important things:

. . . that men and women were meant for important responsibilities and not merely for careless good times.

. . . that what he does now in days of war will have a profound effect on what he will do later in time of peace.

Yes, we all admire the man who is brave in battle. But we all have to take our hats off to the man who is brave among his fellows in the barracks. We all admire the courage it takes to keep one's ideals high and one's principles firm all the year round, especially in the service. That is the true courage. It doesn't require any particular courage to use filthy language — get drunk or act indecently — but it does require blood and guts to live up to our Christian ideals in the face of opposition.

REAR ADMIRAL BRYANT PLEASED AT STAY HERE

Rear Admiral Carleton F. Bryant, USN, Commander Atlantic Fleet Operational Training Command, completed a three-day visit to the USNATB Saturday, and departed for Miami, and New Orleans, well pleased with operations and training carried on here at the Base.

Rear Admiral Bryant thanked Capt. C. Gulbranson, USN, Base CO, and officers and men under his command for military courtesies shown him, and accompanying staff officers, and for smartness of bearing and appearance of all hands.

Rear Admiral Bryant became COTCLant last October 31, when he relieved Rear Admiral Donald B. Beary, USN, who had headed the organization from its establishment in March, 1943.

Prior to becoming "COTCLant," Rear Admiral Bryant was commander of a battleship division comprising the USS Texas, USS New York, USS Nevada, and USS Arkansas.

He was also task force commander for numerous troop convoys to England, and commanded the heavy fire support group for the invasion of Normandy, the action off Cherbourg, and the landings on Southern France. Earlier in the war, he was commanding officer of the USS Arkansas and was in command of the follow-up support convoy for the invasion of North Africa.

Gallantry in action and leadership of naval units in the Atlantic won Rear Admiral Bryant two foreign decorations, two Legions of Merit, and a Letter of Commendation. The British government appointed him to the Distinguished Service Order and the French bestowed on him the Legion of Honor.

The rear admiral's first duty after graduation from the Naval Academy in 1914 was aboard the USS Wyoming, a battleship which operated with the British Grand Fleet for 13 months during the first World War. The Wyoming is now a gunnery training ship and is a unit of his present command.

Rear Admiral Bryant's service between the wars included: assistant fire control officer, USS Pennsylvania; gunnery officer, USS Asheville; commanding officer, USS Oahu, USS Stewart, Cavite Ammunition Depot, and the USS Charleston.

With recent transfer of all Atlantic amphibious training bases from ATC to COTCLant, Rear Admiral Bryant's command now embraces more than 40 operational training activities, coordinated to carry out the most efficient pre-commissioning, shake-down, and refresher training for naval vessels built or converted on the Atlantic and Gulf Coasts and inland waterways.

COTCLant Headquarters are at the Naval Operating Base Annex Camp Allen, the former Sea Bee station, at Norfolk.

Home of the 52-year-old rear admiral is Searsport, Me., where his wife, Mrs. Elizabeth Raltran Bryant, resides. A son, Carleton F., Jr., is a naval officer, as is his son-in-law, Lt. Harry Kelley.

NEWS FLASHES FROM AROUND THE BASE

No. 1 report of the week, though lacking confirmation, is that Lt. Comdr. J. Kittelle, Base Supply Officer, has received tempting offers from Ed Wynn to take a key spot on the Fire Chief Program, complete with fireman's hat, axe and badge of authority. In any event, since Rear Admiral C. F. Bryant's "pop" inspection of his department, and resulting fire drill, he's "Ed Wynn" to his associates. . . .

Spinney, first Catholic Padre who had duty here at the same time, and am wondering where he is. . . .

OUR LETTER BOX

Dear Captain:

After four months as SMO and surgeon at NOB Iceland Dispensary, have been transferred here as SMO of the Dispensary, Advanced Amphibious Base, Southhampton, England. A good many men have passed through here from Fort Pierce, and it is well spoken of here. My duty in Iceland was an experience worth having. Quarters, food, recreation, were excellent. Have been receiving The Mock-Up in bunches and learned with great satisfaction of your Legion of Merit. I know how deserved it was, and please accept my belated congratulations. Sincerely,

Lt. Comdr. F. C. Nichols (MC)

Dear Editor:

I am in receipt of your kind letter about my son George (Capt. G. H. Bright, Jr., former Army instructor at Scouts and Raiders). He was on duty in Burma, where he was severely wounded. After several months in the General Hospital No. 142, Calcutta, due to very fine treatment, his life was spared and he is now in the Walter Reed Hospital in Washington, D.C. He was hit with shrapnel and still has a lot of it in his body. I am sure he will be glad to get "The Mock-Up" once more. George has been married and his home address is 700 Hendren street, Roxboro, Philadelphia. We are now sure of his ultimate recovery, although he had a tough time and Mrs. Bright and I thank you for your interest in him.

Very sincerely,
G. Howard Bright
Princeton, N. J.

Officers and Men, USNATB:

We are deeply grateful for your expression of sympathy and flowers. My father (the late Professor N. H. Bullard, St. Lucie County Superintendent of Schools) often spoke of pleasant associations with the Naval personnel stationed here. He was intensely interested in affording your children with a good and proper education. Your kindness is of particular worth and adds again to my great personal debt to the Navy.

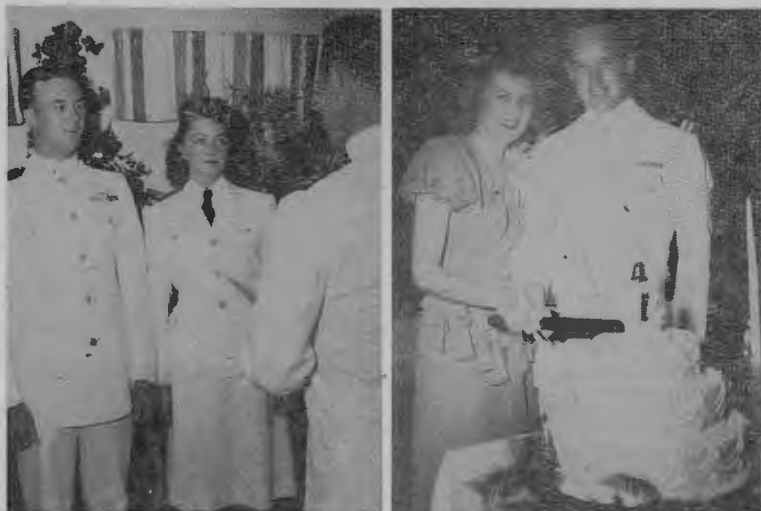

Hudson Bullard,
Lieutenant, USNR

FIRST ALL-NAVY WEDDING HELD AT BASE

Lt. Comdr. H. E. Peters Senior Dental Officer

The new Senior Dental Officer at the Base Dental Clinic is Lt. Comdr. H. E. Peters, USNR. The officer reported aboard USNATB on 21 January, 1945, after serving ten months as Senior Dental Officer at Bainbridge NTC.

Lt. Comdr. Peters graduated from Temple University in 1924 and immediately took up his dental practice in Hazelton, Penna., and practiced there for 20 years until he was called for active duty on 8 May, 1944. Before reporting for active duty, the mild mannered doctor served as Dental Officer for Draft Board No. 1 in Hazelton for two and a half years.

The Senior Dental Officer is married and lives with his wife and family at 1411 Orange Ave. here. The couple has two sons, Norman, 8, and Howard, 7, who recently finished their school terms in Pennsylvania and came down to Fort Pierce to be with their father.

What Did You Do Today?

What did you do today, my friend,
From morning until night?
How many times did you complain,
"The rationing is too tight"?
When are you going to start to do
All the things you say?
A Soldier would like to know, my friend.

What did you do today?
We met the enemy today
And took his town by storm;
Happy reading it will make
For you tomorrow morn,
You'll read with satisfaction
The brief communique.

We fought, but are you fighting?
What did you do today?
My gunner died in my arms today,
I feel his warm blood yet:
Your neighbor's dying boy gave out

A scream I can't forget.
On my right a tank was hit,
A flash, and then the fire;
The stench of burning human flesh
Still rises from their pyre.
What did you do today, my friend,
To help us with the task?

Did you work harder and longer
for less,
Or is that too much to ask?
What right have I to ask you this
You probably will say;
Maybe now you'll understand,
You see . . . I DIED TODAY.

Glamorous, beautiful, vivacious Joan Brandon, known as America's "First Lady of Magic," with her sensational show of stars and musicians, will be at USNATB for a two-day stand, starting Monday night at 1800 when she and her Magic Music Orchestra put on a variety show at Gulbranson Hall.

Following the performance at Gulbranson Hall on Monday, Miss Brandon and her company will appear at Jaycee Field for a Music Under the Stars showing at 2030, and will play for dancing at a dance for enlisted men at 2130 at Legion Hall. On Tuesday night the blonde magician will appear on the stage of Gulbranson Hall at 1800 and will play for dancing at 2030 at a dance for Officers, their wives and lady friends at Legion Hall. Arrangements are being made for a hundred young ladies from the Fort Pierce and West Palm areas to serve as hostesses.

This presentation stars Miss Brandon with her Orchestra, plus a variety of versatile performers from the night spots and theatres of New York and Chicago.

The orchestra has played coast to coast in key theatres and hotels of every big city and over the Columbia Broadcasting System several nights weekly. Besides leading the orchestra, Miss Brandon, grand-daughter of the Great Brandoni, performs so cleverly in the art of magic she is compared with the top ranking magicians in the country.

Following the Magic Music Orchestra in W&R's parade of hits will be "Music that Wins with the McFarland Twins," known for their sweet music and novelties, on June 25.

Base Alumnus, in Far Pacific, Writes For Poems By Service; Gets Them

The truth of the saying, "the pen is mightier than the sword," may be hard to justify in these wartime days, but at least one warrior — an alumnus of the Amphibious Base here — has not forgotten the influence of the pen.

Although participating in the adventures of a war — which would outrival most of Robert W. Service's poems of Alaskan adventure — S2c Walter Shea, aboard an LST in the South Pacific, is still impressed by "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," and "Songs of a Sourdough" to which he was initiated when he chanced across a volume of Service's poems in the USNATB library while in training here.

Shea, unable to find a copy of Service's works, either in his ship's library or at his advanced base, wrote back to Mrs. Emily C. Norwick, Base Librarian, to see if he might purchase a copy. Mrs. Norwick discussed the request with the Field Director's office of

U. S. Trains Russian Crew to Take Over Cruiser Milwaukee

U. S. Naval officers and enlisted men trained a Russian crew to man the light cruiser, USS Milwaukee, when that U. S. warship was loaned to the Russian Navy on April 20, 1944, the Navy announced today.

American instructors were all Russian interpreters — the same men who aided at the Crimean Conference.

After boarding the cruiser in a British port, one officer and one enlisted man were assigned to a department which they studied thoroughly. Officer-enlisted men teams worked in the Construction and Repair, Supply, Communications, Engine Room, Gunnery and Navigation sections.

Upon arrival at Murmansk — after a voyage which included contact with U-boats — the Milwaukee moved into the dock under her own power. She was the first U. S. warship to enter that port during this war.

For five weeks the ship's various compartments were "classrooms." Russian officers and men bombarded the U. S. Navy men with questions. They wanted to know the purpose of every lever, bolt and valve. Sometimes the quiz lasted until late hours of the night. On two occasions the Russian "pupils" pressed a red button on the ship's bridge. The Milwaukee crewmen were sent scurrying to their battle stations. The Soviets, out of curiosity, had pressed the "General Quarters" alarm button!

When indoctrination was completed the ship went out on a shakedown cruise, and later it was turned over with ceremonies to her Soviet skipper.

Other cooperative agents in this service rendered Shea are the St. Lucie County Red Cross Chapter and its Camp and Hospital Committee. Funds from Camp and Hospital service were provided for purchase from a local store of the complete poems of Robert W. Jax NATTC Red Raiders Play Amphibs Here Tonight

VISITING AIR RAIDERS BRINGING STRONG CLUB

The Amphibs will encounter the Jacksonville *NATTC Red Raiders tonight at Jaycee Field in an arc light contest that promises to be a thriller.

Boasting one of the strongest service teams in the upper part of the state, the Red Raiders invade Fort Pierce with the expectations of stopping the long growing string of consecutive wins set by the Amphibs.

The Air Raiders have a season mark of eleven wins and five defeats and have a league record of five victories out of six starts. The Marine-Sailors have several long ball hitters on their club, and should prove troublesome to the hurlers of the local combine.

Johnny Bittner, ace moundsman of the Raiders, will probably get the starting assignment and Presavanto will do the receiving. Marines Johnny Killough, former infielder for Beaumont in the Texas League and third baseman on the Jax squad, and Dan Ferazan will lead the Raiders on the offense.

On Sunday the Amphibs will journey to West Palm Beach where they will cross bats with the Boca

Raton Bombers.

The Avon Park Bombers are due to put in an appearance at Jaycee Field next Wednesday night in a return match between the two clubs. The first contest ended in favor of the Amphibs 10-9 in ten innings early in April. Johnny Maloney, mentor of the Bombers and former Hartford shortstop in the Eastern League, will probably start his leading hurler, Ray Beach, against the Navy.

* The Jax NATTC Red Raiders are distinct from Lt. Charley Gehringer's Jax NAS Fliers who play here on 4 July.

Barlow AAF Paper Has Praise For Amphibs

The MUSTANG, base paper of the Bartow Army Air Field, Bartow, Florida, paid compliments to the Navy Amphibs in the recent June 3 issue.

"Seldom seen in these parts is a baseball team of the caliber of the Fort Pierce Amphibs who paid us a visit last week. It has been reported that six of their players have been signed this season by big league scouts. This puts them slightly out of our class," was the comment of the sports editor, Sgt. R. A. Morris.

In another section, the sports page states: "It was simply a case of stepping up into major league class of service team competition last Saturday when the Navy's Fort Pierce Amphibs hauled into town and proceeded to pour in on a hapless Mustang nine by a tally of 10-2 at Bartow city park. The Navy lads, led by their center fielder, Ray Goolsby, who got two singles and a home run, put on the finest exhibition seen in the local park in two years."

Amphib Baseballers Add Wins Over Pinellas, Fort Lauderdale and Hendricks

Capturing three victories during the week, the Amphibs stretched their string of consecutive victories to 20 while compiling a record of 25 wins out of 26 games for the season's play.

The hard hitting Sailors annexed a 9-0 win over the Pinellas AAF nine last Thursday night before a capacity crowd including Rear Adm. C. F. Bryant, Commander of the Fleet Operational Training Command, stopped the Fort Lauderdale AS nine with a 6-3 score on Sunday, and added an 11-0 triumph over the Hendricks Field Bombirds on Wednesday night.

Behind the superb two-hit pitching of Curt Mitchell the Amphibs ran rampant over the scrappy Hendricks Field Bombers, 11-0 on Wednesday night at Sebring. Mitchell not only hurled a near perfect game, but also led the offense with a single and double to bat in two runs and score twice himself.

For five and two thirds innings Mitchell set down the opposing batsmen in order, before Krautzel, left fielder of the Bombirds, drop-

The Bombers will invade Jaycee Field next Wednesday night to cross bats with the willow-wielding Amphibs in an arc light contest scheduled for 2030. In an earlier meeting of the two clubs, the Navy aggregation had to go all out to win 10-9 in an extra inning ball game. ped a scratch single into left field. The right hander only allowed one Hendricks man go as far as second base and let four reach first in one of his finest pitching exhibitions. Second Bombird bingle came in the seventh when Catcher Joe Monjar was safe on a close play at first. Mitchell fanned seven and issued but one base on balls.

The Amphib batters slammed four Hendricks hurlers for a total of fourteen base hits to tally their eleven runs. Lefty Sykes, a leading chucker in the Florida West Conference, was the starting hurler for the losers and went eight innings. Although giving up seven runs, the lean left hander pitched much better ball than the score shows. His team mates put him in holes time after time with errors. During his stay on the mound, Sykes was touched for 12 hits, seven runs, gave up one walk and fanned three Amphib hitters; his team mates made five errors. The ninth inning found Landreth, Bush and Branca coming to the hill for the losers, with the two first ones being lifted for ineffectiveness. In the last stanza the Amphibs tallied four runs on four base on balls and two singles.

The winners started the game off with three runs in the first and second innings and another single tally in the fourth. The final four came in the walkathon ninth.

Mitchell, Pat Murphy, Bob Fountain, Ray Goolsby and Gene McCarty each had two hits; while Keehan, Swoboda, Poole and Maksimoski had one each.

Marshall Wardrop, ace right hander of the Sailors, gained his ninth victory of the season against no defeats, by stopping the Pinellas aggregation with five hits. Wardrop issued two walks and threw his fast breaking curves past nine Pinellas batsmen.

The Amphibs tallied three runs in the second and third innings; countered two in the fifth and a single tally in the eighth. Gene McCarty, who played an outstanding game in left field, led the Amphibs with two hits and two walks in four trips to the plate for a perfect game. Paul Swoboda and Jim Poole each had two bingles in four tries. Mel Leslie, first sacker and relief hurler for the team from St. Petersburg, helped himself to two safeties to lead his club on the offense.

Big Bill Siders came back Sunday to hang up his sixth straight win by handcuffing the Lauderdale NAS nine with four hits. The big right hander fanned four batters and walked three.

The Amphibs scored a single

Sports Chatter About Athletes From Here and There

FRANCIS X. McPHILLIPS, S1c DIAMOND DUST . . . Amphib power can be clearly seen in statistics that show the high riding team scored 239 runs in their first 25 games, against their opponents' 64. The team as a whole is batting .331, with 305 base hits in 919 times at bat . . . The score book shows the Avon Park Bombers as the team to score the most runs in one game against the Sailors. The Bombers tallied nine runs in an extra inning ball game that found the Amphibs emerging victors, 10-9. The Orlando Fliers scored second high for a regulation game with seven runs in the opening game of the season which ended 8-7 in favor of the Amphibs. The lone setback, at the hands of Orlando, found the Amphibs garnering eight base hits from the offerings of Tommy Fine while the Fliers could only salvage four hits from the slants of Doswell Olson, charged with the defeat, and Marshall Wardrop. The Fliers, who are coached by the famous Joe Tinker, scraped up five runs on their four singles and seven Amphib errors. Since graciously handing the Fliers that game on 22 April, the Amphibs have played hard, clean baseball and haven't lost. The same Orlando Fliers will invade the confines of Jaycee Field on run in the first inning on a triple by Paul Swoboda and a single by Ray Goolsby. In the fourth they put together a homer by Gene McCarty and successive singles by Poole, Maksimoski and Siders to tally two more. A single by Swoboda, followed by a walk to Goolsby and a single by Jim Poole registered a single tally in the fifth. Murphy, who gained first on a fielder's choice, and Swoboda, who walked, scored in the sixth inning when Goolsby laced a double to left center.

The visitors countered two runs in the seventh inning when Smith was hit by a pitched ball, Sherman walked and Traeger hit a double to left field. The final Lauderdale run was tallied in the eighth when Lovett doubled and scored on an error.

Gene McCarty's homer cleared the left field fence 340 feet from the plate and was the longest hit of the day. Paul Swoboda and Ed Maksimoski combined their talents to perform one of the finest double plays seen on the local diamond in years. Jim Poole, Amphib second sacker, led the team on the offense with three hits in four trips

26 June and baseball fans are The Sailors hold a 2-1 edge over the Fliers to date, having taken them into camp twice before the never-to-be-forgotten Sunday at Tinker Field. Between now and the end of the month the Amphibs have a stiff schedule facing them. . . . Starting tonight when they encounter the Jacksonville NATTC Red Raiders, the Sailors have games with Boca Raton Bombers at West Palm Beach on Sunday the 17th; a game with Avon Park at home next Wednesday; a tough weekend bill at home with the Bartow Mustangs, on Saturday the 23rd, and the Drew Field Hurricanes on Sunday, the 24th. Following the Drew squad is the Orlando Fliers game Wednesday, June 27, at home, and on the 29th the Amphibs will journey to Jacksonville to encounter Charley Gehringer and his Jax NAS Flyers. The team is ready for the stiff competition and the fans are all looking forward to some smart, heads-up baseball in the weeks to come . . . Bev Moss, who had returned to the line-up last week, is again sidelined with a broken finger. The stocky catcher, who had suffered two broken fingers in a game with Vero Beach a month ago, had the misfortune of trying to catch one of Marshal Wardrop's fast breaking curves with his bare hand and is now suffering with a compound fracture of his right thumb . . . Player-Coach Nick Wasylik, who has been laid up the past two weeks with a concussion is expected to be up and about on the weekend. The fleet right fielder has been running the club from his bed the last two weeks while Ray Goolsby has been the field general. Jack Stieve, CB 1011 veteran, is up and about and yearning to get behind the Nick Wasylik plate to handle the slants of his buddy, Doswell Olson, slender left hander, who has a world of "stuff" . . . Frank Smagacz, another catcher on the roster, is back in uniform after a leave spent in Nebraska. Fans can look for plenty of chatter from the base paths in the coming weeks with Frank and Nick Wasylik as hecklers of enemy hurlers . . . The baseball team will get another shot at Bob Wells, former Jersey City Giant hurler, Sunday when they face the big right hander in a game between the Amphibs and Boca Raton. The game will be the last of a four-game series between the two clubs with the Navy holding a 3-0 edge . . .
